BE FULLY IN THE ROOM

Patients can tell when you are half listening. They notice the glance at the screen mid-sentence. What they remember from an appointment is whether they felt heard.

Transcriptor, new from Diagnocat, listens to your natural patient conversation and turns it into a clear, clinical note within minutes. No dictation, no commands, no keyboard between you and your patient. Just consistent notes every provider on the team can trust, and a plain-language summary your patient can take home.

Be fully in the room. The chart will catch up.
